MEMORANDUM FOR SEE DISTRIBUTION

SUBJECT: U.S. Army Garrison Vicenza Policy Memorandum 08-45, Strategic Planning or Professional Development Off-sites

1. Effective immediately, garrison directorates and staff offices must request and receive the Garrison Commander's approval for all individual strategic planning or professional development off-sites. Coordination will be done through the Plans, Analysis and Integration Office (PAIO).
2. Requestor will submit a Staff Summary (Enclosure 1) with completed coordination through the PAIO and Deputy to the Garrison Commander for review no later than six weeks prior to the planned event. Enclosure 2 recommends that organizations involve the Regional Contracting Office (RCO), Office of the Staff Judge Advocate (OSJA), and the Resource Management Office (RMO) from the very beginning in order to avoid unauthorized and short notice commitments. To pass command and legal prudence, agencies must be able to justify why the conference could not be held on the installation.
3. Staff Summary must include an Agenda, along with stated purpose, intended outcome, target audience, and required resources. Furthermore, request must adhere to the US Army Garrison Vicenza Policy Memorandum #08-44, Antiterrorism and Force Protection (AT/FP) Travel Assessments Requests.
4. This policy memorandum supersedes US Army Garrison (USAG) Vicenza Policy Memorandum #08-01, Strategic Planning or Professional Development Off-sites dated 16 Jan 08.
5. Point of contact is the Director, PAIO, phone: DSN 634-6426, email: debra.kaleponi@us.army.mil.

MEMORANDUM FOR RECORD

SUBJECT: Information Paper on Conference Planning

1. This information paper is to provide staff directorates and units a few of the legal and fiscal considerations when planning conferences and off-sites.
2. We strongly recommend that you involve the Regional Contracting Office (RCO), Office of the Staff Judge Advocate (OSJA), and the Resource Management Office (RMO) or Comptroller, from the very beginning.
3. Location of your conference. Often there is a cost associated with holding a conference at an off-post location. However, this is not always the case. Remember that only a contracting agent can enter into negotiations or commit funds after RMO has certified the availability of funds. If you find that there is a fee associated with the off-post site, you must be able to justify why the conference could not be held on the installation in order to pass legal muster. You will also need to provide a full description of the event, to include the purpose of the conference and proposed schedule of events, as well as the names of the proposed attendees in order for the legal review to be conducted.
4. Appropriated funds (APFs) may be used to host off-sites, but strict guidelines exist in order to avoid abuse. If the conference is held within a reasonable traveling distance from the participants' home station, APFs will not usually be permitted for lodging expenses. Rather, the participants will either have to commute from his/her home to the conference or pay for the lodging with other means. If the conference is held outside the reasonable commuting area, the amount that can be paid for contracted rooms cannot exceed the local per diem rate for lodging.
5. If a conference location outside a reasonable distance from home station is chosen, meals will typically not be paid for with appropriated funds unless the meals do not create an additional cost or if the cost of the food is non-severable from the cost of the conference space and the price is reasonable. In some situations it might be possible to pay for severable food costs, but you should discuss your options with OSJA and RMO early on in the planning process. For example, where essential training is conducted during a luncheon session, food may be provided at Government expense. Additionally, where the cost of the contracted meals is less than the total cost of the per diem allocations, contracted meals will be the preferable method.
6. Attendance. Is the intent of the off-site for work only or will families also be invited? Typically, if families are invited, additional costs beyond the cost of the employee will come out of pocket. However, this is not necessarily the case, so check with G8 and OSJA early in the planning process to work through all the details. Likewise, transportation may become an issue if the intent is to bring spouses and children unless an exception exists allowing them to travel at government expense. Finally, childcare is generally not paid for with APFs. However, exceptions to this do exist, such as for chaplain-led family retreats or family readiness group training for statutorily registered volunteers. These are not the only exceptions; they are merely used as examples.
